SUBJECT: In-person Interview with the Complainant:

Chicago Fire Department – Marine & Dive Operations

Additional person present during the interview:
Sergeant Ryan FIELDS #2458
City of Chicago Employee# [REDACTED]
Chicago Police Department
Bureau of Internal Affairs – Unit 121

On 22 July at approximately 1235hrs the undersigned along with Sgt. Ryan FIELDS met with the complainant, Deputy District Chief Ronald DORNEKER, as scheduled. This meeting was conducted in DORNEKERS private office which is located inside the Chicago Fire Department facility located at 259 N. Columbus.

After formal introductions were made, the undersigned explained the purpose of the meeting and gave DORNEKER a brief overview of the investigative process. At this juncture, DORNEKER was asked to outline the basis for his allegation that unknown members of the Chicago Police Departments Marine Unit may be involved in on-duty salvage operations involving the recovery and sale of decommissioned Chicago Fire Department Badges that were retired at sea.

DORNEKER indicated that for years, he and members of the Chicago Fire Department – Marine & Dive Operations Unit 688 have observed members of the Chicago Police Departments Marine Unit conduct legitimate dive training exercises in Lake Michigan waters approximately one mile off-shore in an area commonly referred to as "the gun dump" by local salvage divers, boaters and others within the local maritime community. When asked, DORNEKER explained that the area is referred to as the "gun-dump" because over 50 years ago it was Chicago Police Department policy to dump, in bulk, recovered firearms that were purged from the Departments inventory of evidence.

DORNEKER further related that it is in this same area that the Chicago Fire Department would discard their inventory of old and obsolete fire department badges.

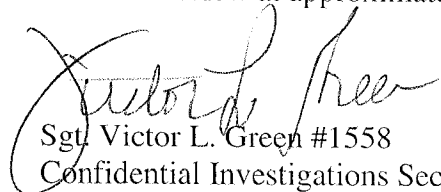

DORNEKER relates that even though he has no direct knowledge of any instance where members of the Chicago Police Departments Marine Unit have conducted an unauthorized dive operation and/or unauthorized salvage operation for decommissioned Chicago Fire Department badge, he's heard the rumor from other members of the Chicago Fire Department. When asked if he could identify anyone that has conveyed the rumor directly to him or anyone that has direct knowledge of any incident(s), DORNEKER indicated that he could not.

It should be noted that the investigative file contains a copy of an email from Ronald.Dorneker@cityofchicago.org dated July 10, 2015 to one Michael.Fox@cityofchicago.org which states "Marine Unit found 15 in the last two weeks. They go every day to look for them. No training related diving to helping people, just salvage diving." The official position of Michael FOX is unknown at this time; however, the email string indicates that Michael FOX forwarded the email to Josh DENNIS. Josh DENNIS is assigned to the Office of the Chicago Fire Department Commissioner.

In an effort to clarify the information, the undersigned presented DORNEKER with a printed copy of his email. After reviewing the document, DORNEKER again related that he has no direct knowledge of any misconduct by members of the Chicago Police Departments Marine Unit and that the information contained in his email was merely unsubstantiated rumors. DORNEKER further related that he generated the email after his unit received a job assignment that had previously been rejected by the Chicago Police Departments Marine Unit.

The undersigned asked DORNEKER if he needed extra time to potentially identify witnesses and gather specific, more probative, details about the allegations. DORNEKER related that he would look into the matter further and agreed to a follow-up conversation with the undersigned.

At approximately 1310hrs the investigating members thanked DORNEKER for his time and subsequently terminated the interview at approximately 1310hrs.

SUBJECT: On-line Market Place Search

On 23 July 2015 at approximately 0635hrs the undersigned conducted an on-line search of Amazon.com and eBay.com in an effort to determine if there were any decommissioned Chicago Fire Department badges posted for sale. No Chicago Fire Department badges were found on Amazon.com. The eBay query revealed several postings which offered for sale rare and antique Chicago Fire Department badges; however, none of them matched the design and shape of the decommissioned badges which are the subject of this investigation.
